

BLAME WIRING
FOR PORCH FIRE
THIS MORNING

Faulty wiring was blamed by Fire Chief Donald W. McSherry this noon for a fire which caused at least $300 damage at the homes of Marlin R. Derr, 213 Steinwehr Ave., and Fran Mumper, 215 Steinwehr Ave., "and could have caused much more extensive damage had it not been for the quick thinking of Mrs. Mumper."

The Derr family was absent from its side of the double brick house owned by Addison R. Durboraw, Gettysburg R. D., when Mrs. Mumper noticed the odor of smoke on her side of the house about 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Investigating she found smoke seeping around the kitchen door which opened onto a frame enclosed back porch that covered both sides of the double house at the rear.

Called Firemen
She told firemen when she called that she "was afraid to open the back door," which firemen held was the best thing to do under the circumstances. Had she opened the door, they said, the fire would have had more draft and would probably have burst into the Mumper house.

Leaving the house, Mrs. Mumper found flames leaping inside the porch on the Derr side of the house. When firemen arrived a few moments later they found the fire was beginning to "lick out" around cracks in the walls of the structure.

Water from booster hoses and from the plug on the Taneytown Rd. was brought to bear and the fire was extinguished before it entered the brick house.

Heat Broke Window
The heat of the flames had burst a kitchen window and a blind had been charred, but that was as close as the blaze came to entering the house proper, firemen said.

The blaze was confined mostly to the Derr side of the porch, with the only damage on the Mumper side coming from charring and dense smoke. Firemen said an electric drill and quantities of other equipment on the porch at the Derr house were destroyed.

A final estimate on damage will be made this afternoon after firemen contact Mr. Derr to determine what was stored on the porch.

YORK SPRINGS'
WATER SUPPLY
LOST BY LEAKS

York Springs residents were saving water today while the community's water company sought to repair mains where leaks had permitted the town's reservoir to run dry Christmas Day.

Fire Chief Paul Wolf said sufficient water was coming through the mains, although at very low pressure, to allow drinking water and cooking. All of the water coming into the town came from springs which normally feed the reservoir.

Discovery that the reservoir was empty came at about 9:45 o'clock Tuesday night.

York Springs officials, noting a decline in the water level of the reservoir over the last two weeks, had thoroughly cleaned and plugged cracks in the reservoir last week, and had believed they had found all leaks.

An engineer called in at that time had surveyed the line and had expressed the belief that there were leaks at two spots where mains joined, but it was not believed that the leaks were very serious and plans were made to repair them in the near future.

Christmas Day the pressure in the mains apparently pushed out what remained of the seal around the joints of the mains at the two locations, one near the Lutheran Church and the other near the west end of the town, and the water gushed out of the mains, draining the reservoir. The water apparently drained off underground and was not observed from the surface.

With the reservoir empty, York Springs firemen stood by with filled water tanks in their trucks and also asked Gettysburg Fire Department to stand by with its 500-gallon water carrying pumps in case of fire need in the York Springs area until the mains can be repaired.

This morning under the direction of Frank Zager of the water department, the mains were opened at the breaks and repairs were being effected.

Another $500 Gift
For Red Cross Fund

The Red Cross fund for the relief of Hungarian refugees was bolstered today by its second gift of $500 with the donor asking that the Red Cross not reveal the identity of the giver.

The donation "to help in the fine work that you are doing" brings the fund total in this county to $1,548.64. The original goal was $906 but when the national goal was increased by one million dollars, the county chapter was asked to gather all the additional funds possible here.

A number of smaller donations from individuals were received over the holiday. There was an earlier gift of $500 for the Red Cross fund for the Hungarians from another donor.

LITTLE GIRL IS SHOT IN HIP ON

The Adams County youngster was accidentally shot in her left thigh by a seven-year-old brother Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, while her widowed mother was absent from home seeking to secure some small gifts for the ten children still residing with her in their tiny three-room home in the Pigeon Hills.

At the Hanover Hospital physicians feared at first they would have to amputate the little girl's left leg because of the seriousness of the shotgun wound. Physicians working feverishly Christmas Eve finally were able to repair the shattered bone and flesh so that it is believed the youngster will be able to continue using the leg, although the doctors said skin grafts will be necessary.

Second Tragedy
The tragedy was at least the second for the family. About four years ago, when the Noels resided at Mt. Misery, the father of the family of 13 youngsters committed suicide, police recalled, as they investigated the shooting Monday.

Mrs. Dorothea M. Noel, the mother, had gone to Hanover Monday afternoon with a neighbor, Mrs. Roy Laughman, to make some Christmas purchases that the holiday might not pass her family by without some gifts, even though they might be small.

Record Breaking Traffic Toll In Nation Soars To 698; Totals 867

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths zoomed to the highest total for any holiday period in American history during the long Christmas weekend.

Tabulations today also showed that deaths in accidents of all kinds also shattered previous records.

Fatalities added up to 698 in traffic, 59 in fires and 120 in accidents of other types for a total of 867.

Broke All Records
The motor vehicle death toll surpassed the record for any holiday period—609, set during the three-day celebration of Christmas last year. It also exceeded the National Safety Council's advance prediction of 660.

The all-accident total topped the old mark of 805 established during a three-day observation of Independence Day last year.

The deaths tabulated today were caused by accidents that occurred during a 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday. It was a four-day period, a day longer than the 1955 holiday periods in which the former records were set.

EX-HUSBAND OF ACTRESS IN STREET BRAWL

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said Jeanne Crain's former husband Paul Brinkman last night assaulted two men in a street brawl, one of whom later announced he will marry the actress.

A pickup order was issued for Brinkman, 37, on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon after he assertedly fought with Homer H. Rhoads, 45 wealthy ex-manufacturer, and Ted Ryan, 38-year-old advertising man.

Brinkman, also in the manufacturing business, stated in testimony prior to his divorce from the 30-year-old Miss Crain that a Homer H. Rhoads was the "other man" in her life.

"Horrible Way"
Deputies said last night's melee took place in front of a Hollywood Hills apartment house in which Rhoads lives.

Rhoads later told newsmen he intends to marry Miss Crain because "I'm in love with her and she's in love with me."

Nursing a cut forehead, sore wrist, a skinned elbow and scratched-up knees, he added: "This is a horrible way to make a wedding announcement, but that's the way it is."

Miss Crain was not available for comment. Rhoads said he had talked with her after the altercation, but he declined to disclose what she said.

GOP SENATORS GET TOGETHER ON THURSDAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican Senate majority gets together tomorrow at nearby Hershey to decide who will be the GOP floor leader at the 1957 session of the Legislature opening Jan. 1.

Informal conferences were expected tonight to go into the merits and politics of re-electing Sen. Mahany (Crawford) to the post or switching to Sen. Berger (Potter). Sen. Taylor (Dauphin), already endorsed for re-election as president pro tempore, favors Mahany while Republican State Chairman Bloom says he will support Berger, if the latter is a candidate. Berger has declared his availability for the post, putting the decision up to other 26 GOP senators.

To Fill Others Jobs
Taylor was endorsed for the top Senate post at the first closed caucus of the Republican senators Dec. 4. However, selection of other Senate leaders was put off then at request of Bloom, who was unable to be present.

The Republican senators also will endorse candidates for chief clerk and secretary. Mentioned for those jobs, paying $9,900 and $8,200 respectively, were former Sens. Diehm (Lancaster), Gelt (Allegheny) and Letzler (Clearfield), and Edward L. Flaherty, Allegheny County GOP chairman. Diehm was reported favored for clerkship, with the secretaryship still in the "fluid" stage.

MANY RECEIVED BY POPE TODAY

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII received several thousand persons in a general audience today at the Vatican's Hall of Benedictions.

Cheers sounded as the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was carried on a portable throne through a throng of pilgrims, tourists and Romans that overflowed into adjoining chambers.

The Pope spoke briefly, giving his greetings in several languages. An Indian diplomat, Charge d'Affaires M. A. J. Kidwai, saw the Pope yesterday. He was received in a special Christmas audience because he had to leave Bern, Switzerland.

Indian and Vatican sources said Kidwai may have discussed Prime Minister Nehru's recent meeting with President Eisenhower, but they had no confirmation.

STRETCH XMAS WORK HOLIDAY

BUDAPEST (AP)—The Hungarians people prolonged their Christmas celebration today, but members of Premier Janos Kadar's Communist government were reported hard at work.

The Communists are trying to find a program to get the still rebellious country out of its political and economic chaos.

An informed Hungarian source said this "new program" probably will be proclaimed before New Year's.

He forecast, however, it will not be anything spectacular. He said the most that could be hoped for would be that it might serve as the basis for interparty talks to seek to bring non-Communist parties into the present unpopular regime.

Youth In Stolen Car Eludes Police

A youth driving a stolen car led McSherrystown Chief of Police Manard Masemer on a chase through streets and alleys in Midway and the northwestern section of Hanover Monday night and escaped apprehension when he abandoned the vehicle in the alley in the rear of the 200-block Third St., Hanover.

Masemer said the vehicle owned by Elmer Weaver, 12 Fourth St., McSherrystown, was reported stolen about 7 p.m. from a parking lot near the McSherrystown Home Association, Fourth and North Sts. Masemer said he spotted the vehicle about 9:30 p.m. in the Midway section and turned on his siren to halt the driven. Instead, Masemer said, the youth sped away and led Masemer on a chase lasting about 45 minutes.

The officer said the car was stopped in a blind alley at the rear of Third St., just off Commerce St., Hanover, and a youth jumped out of the vehicle and fled over a fence and through the Myers Memorial display lot, 261 Third St.

CALIFORNIA'S TRAFFIC TOLL WORST IN U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California, proud of its fine holiday weather and magnificent superhighways, today had to live with the worst record in the nation for traffic deaths over Christmas.

The state led all others with at least 73 fatalities. Death was indiscriminate in the Golden State. It took infants, servicemen, older persons — even orphaned children as they waited at home for the annual gift-giving to commence.

Five Orphaned Friends of William and Mary McKay didn't want to tell the couple's five children when they woke up Christmas morning that their parents were no longer alive.

McKay, an airport employee at Blythe, and his wife were returning home from a Christmas Eve party when their car plunged into a canal.

The same night at Torrance, in the harbor district, 16-month-old Pamela Jo Adams met death swiftly in a two-car collision. The driver of the other car was booked on suspicion of felony drunk driving.

On Christmas Day, a car containing a Palmdale family and a couple visiting from Minneapolis rounded a curve on the new Angeles Crest Highway above Pasadena. Only seconds before two large boulders had fallen onto the scenic roadway from a slope above.

500-Foot Plunge
The car hit one of the boulders and plunged into a 500-foot-deep canyon—killing Kenneth McRae, 33; his son, Bruce, 8; and their house guest from Minneapolis, Mrs. Elsie Beelow, 54.

Seriously injured were Fred Beelow, 58; Richard McRae, 59; and Mrs. Martha McRae, 58. A crew which rescued the injured found gay Christmas packages strewn about the bodies.

In Northern California, Jerry K. Duncan, 21, a sailor on pass from submarine duty, was killed on the holiday was almost over when a car left the highway between Vallejo and Sonoma.

All parts of the state had multiple-death accidents, and there were the usual number of pedestrian fatalities—the latter despite clear daytime weather and generally fog-free nights.

NEW BRUSH FIRE IN CALIFORNIA
MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire broke out east of here in the Santa Monica Mountains early today and within four hours had covered 1,500 acres and reported to have destroyed 25 homes.

Keith Klinger, Los Angeles County fire chief, said firemen reported the number of homes burned. They said the flames were moving at the rate of 500 acres an hour. The chief said he had no reports of any casualties.

Seven or eight of the homes burned were substantial residences north of Zuma Beach off U.S. Highway 101.

The scene is roughly 40 miles north and west of Los Angeles. Firemen said it could become a major disaster.

Authorities expressed concern for the small towns of Malibu Vista, Malibu Park Vista and another settlement near Newton and Latino canyons.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Clifford Taylor, a bus driver for the Philadelphia Transportation Co., parked his big vehicle in nearby Darby early today after finishing a run from Chester.

After a cup of coffee at a restaurant, he returned to the bus—but the bus wasn't where he had left it. He notified Darby police and an hour later the bus was found abandoned in Yeaddon.

Taylor meanwhile finished his run in a substitute bus.

GRANDCHILDREN AT WHITE HOUSE FOR CHRISTMAS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christmas Day at the White House, as at millions of other American homes, put emphasis on the children.

In this case, they were the grandchildren of President and Mrs. Eisenhower — David, 8, Barbara Ann, 7, Susan, almost 5, and Mary Jean, just a year old.

They arrived at the White House in midafternoon with their parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower having driven in from nearby Ft. Belvoir, Va., where Maj. Eisenhower is stationed.

The presidential couple and Mrs. Eisenhower's mother Mrs. John S. Doud greeted the young Eisenhowers and the President posed for pictures while holding the baby, Mary Jean.

A spokesman said some of the gifts from the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to their grandchildren were bought by the President when he attended the Big Four summit conference at Geneva a year and a half ago, but not given to the children last Christmas.

The adults had exchanged gifts at a family dinner on Christmas Eve. Eisenhower gave his wife a dozen monogrammed individual silver match boxes to match a table service. The nature of her gift to the President was not disclosed.

Two cars collided, and were demolished, one mile south of Abbotstown on the Hanover Rd. at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Police said Thomas Ross Schriver, 19, W. High St., New Oxford, traveling south, swung wide on a curve and struck a north bound auto driven by John H. Baumgardner, 30, Hanover.

Schriver was admitted to the Hanover Hospital with deep lacerations of the scalp, and multiple lacerations of the face. Mrs. Lois E. Baumgardner, 28, wife of the driver of the other car, was treated at the Hanover Hospital for fractured ribs.

Helen L. Baugher, 34, Hanover, received a bruised left leg when a car driven by her husband, Raymond E. Baugher, 38, Hanover, collided with a car operated by C. E. Schroll, 47, S. Queen St., Littlestown, one-half mile south of Hanover on the Littlestown Rd.

Baugher was traveling south and sought to make a left turn into the parking lot of the W. L. Sterner hardware store, police said, when his vehicle collided with the north-bound Schroll sedan. Damage was estimated at $550 to Baugher's car and $450 to Schroll's vehicle. Mrs. Baugher was treated by Dr. George E. Thomassy, Hanover.

Three Car Accident
None were injured when three cars collided at 9 o'clock Monday night one mile north of Hanover on the Cross Keys Rd. Police said Ruth Ann Nace, 16, Hanover R. 5, halted her car on the highway preparatory to making a left hand turn into a private driveway.

Donald D. Wagner, 19, Hanover, driving behind Miss Nace, also stopped his car. Charles Jacob Scholl, 33, Pinksburg, Md., also headed south, was unable to stop his vehicle in time and hit the rear of the Wagner car driving it into the rear of the Nace convertible. Damage was estimated at $500 to Scholl's car, and $100 each to the Wagner and Nace vehicles.

While the daughter was being operated upon, William Noel and Mr. Laughman found Mrs. Noel and then rushed her to the hospital, her Christmas shopping unfinished.

was outside the house, cutting wood and stacking it on the porch when he heard the crash of the discharging shotgun.

Got Brother's Gun
Rushing in, he found Peggy Joan fallen to the floor in the doorway between the middle and rear room of the three-room structure. Her leg had been badly smashed by a shotgun blast.

On a bed in the rear room of the house, about eight feet from Peggy Joan, was her brother, George, aged seven.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Firemen Santa Claus To Town
Kiddies: The Gettysburg volunteer firemen played Santa Claus to almost 2,000 children and shut-ins again this year beginning Christmas eve at 7 o'clock when the firemen's ninth annual Christmas party was held at the firehouse on East Middle street. The children received a box of candy and an orange.

Santa Claus was at the party in person. In fact the committee in charge of the kiddies party had four Santa Clauses working at the same time.

On Christmas morning the firemen visited the county home, the Warner hospital and the jail and distributed boxes of candy and oranges to the persons at those institutions. During the afternoon two Santa Clauses visited the Hoffman orphanage and Paradise Rectory and two others went to the Mont Alto Sanatorium to visit the children there.

Twenty baskets of provisions for Christmas day dinners were distributed Wednesday by the firemen to deserving families in Gettysburg.

Level Of Barbering Raised By New Law Passed By State: When addressing your barber after January 1 it may be amiss to address him as "doctor," "professor" or some other similar term of respect, for the state has promulgated a set of rules and regulations governing this business that raises it almost to the level of the medical and teaching professions.

After the first of the year it will be unlawful for a man to practice the occupation of a barber unless he fully complies with the provisions of the law which require each barber to pass an examination and obtain a certificate of registration, and be certified free of all contagious and infectious diseases.

Make Drive On Chicken Thieft: In an effort to break up rings of chicken thieves which have been operating in central Pennsylvania police are making special night patrols until the holiday season ends.

The theft of chickens from Adams county farms had almost reached epidemic proportions in recent weeks, a check over the reports of thefts made to the local authorities revealed today. In many cases entire flocks have been stolen by the thieves' depredations, reports indicated.

All vehicles containing poultry are being stopped by the police and drivers are being required to prove that they actually own the birds they are transporting.

Jesuits Revealed As New Owners Of Buena Vista Hotel: William L. Galvin, Baltimore attorney, whose purchase for $25,000 of the Buena Vista Spring hotel and its properties was confirmed by the federal district court at Scranton Friday announced Tuesday that the hotel will be used as a summer resort for Jesuits and their friends.

The hotel, which is one of the most famous in the South Mountain resort section, will not be used in the future as a public hotel. It will be used for the first time next summer as a resort for the Jesuits.

Holiday Cheer Spread Far By Relief Groups: Christmas cheer was dispensed bountifully in Gettysburg and Adams county.

The Red Cross, the Gettysburg fire company, the American Legion and other welfare and relief agencies and philanthropically inclined individuals all did their share toward lighting up the dark places in the town and county.

The Red Cross distributed 140 baskets of groceries, canned goods, vegetables and venison through the county, giving families sustaining and nourishing food to last them for several weeks.

The American Legion is giving away 100 bushes of potatoes and Gettysburg and Adams county as its other staples to needy families in part in distributing Christmas cheer.

In addition the firemen held their annual kiddies party and distributed candy and oranges at the orphanage and Mont Alto, the county home and jail.

Today's Talk

THE TELEPHONE
Though I have lived all through the early and present development of the telephone, every time I take up the receiver I am filled anew with admiration and wonder at what has always appeared to me as an actual miracle.

It seems but a few years ago that people in the small Michigan town where I loved as a boy were talking about the telephone that the town druggist had connected between his store and his home. And you actually heard the human voice by taking into a contraption on the wall!

But what a growth the development and perfection of the telephone has been! All over the world now you can talk to anyone. You can even send your voice through the air without giving it a wire to hurry through! And there are wonders yet to come, for great sums are being spent in laboratories that the people may be served even more efficiently than ever before.

Thousands of people now are being employed in all parts of the world by the various telephone companies. It was a big step ahead when the automatic telephone was installed, and new and more efficient ideas are in the works. But I still look upon the telephone in my home and office as a thing of wonder. Just to think that within a few minutes I can talk with a friend 3,000 miles away! Or I can talk beyond the seas. Taxicab drivers in many cities talk from their cars to their office and take orders and state where they are at all times.

A few years ago I visited the old experimental offices of Alexander Graham Bell on Cape Breton Island, a part of Nova Scotia. Here he and his associates experimented for years on the telephone and early flying machine. Upon a beautiful spot on a mountain, near where Bell worked, he and Mrs. Bell are buried. A great natural granite stone marks their grave. Simple and dignified, as was his life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Undeclared" Protected, 1956, by the George Matthews Adams Service.

Just Folks

TOO WISE

I'd like to go to bed once more And wake on Christmas Day at four
An eager boy, and be as thrilled Again to find my stocking filled.

Wise men who tear life's joys apart
It seems sometimes can be too smart.
They spoil the pleasures with their touch
Because they've grown to know too much.

The merriment of childhood dies Beneath the frowning of the wise.
Great wisdom makes a man a thief
Who steals a little child's belief.

No smart man coldly would disclose
How what is wanted Santa knows;
His tongue he ought to learn to hold.
Better the truth should not be told.

FAIR WEATHER FOR MOST OF U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow flurries fell in sections of the Midwest and Northeast and there was some fog and cloudy skies in the Northwest but it was generally fair weather in most other parts of the country today.

It was colder in the eastern third of the nation with the chilly air extending into parts of the Southeast. Freezing weather was reported in northern Florida.

Snow flurries sprinkled areas from Wisconsin and Illinois eastward to the Pennsylvania-New York area. They were expected to spread during the day over most of the Great Lakes region and northern parts of the Ohio Valley.

KADAR'S REGIME MAY ASK WORLD BANK FOR LOAN

VIENNA (AP)— Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-dominated regime is reported planning to seek a 100-million-dollar loan from the World Bank. An official of the bank in Washington says Hungary has no chance of getting the money.

A report from Budapest said a Hungarian delegation either had left or would leave soon for Paris to approach officials of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Officials of Kadar's government were not available to confirm or deny the report, but the Budapest regime's newspaper, Nepszabadsag, said Monday that Hungary would have to seek foreign loans, even from capitalist countries. Economists have advised Kadar that Hungary's revolt-disrupted economy needs at least 400 million dollars in foreign aid to put it back on the track.

USSR Likely Source
The Soviet Union appeared the only likely source of such aid. An official of the World Bank said in Washington that Hungary was not a member of the organization and therefore not eligible for a loan of any amount.

Any aid from Western Europe also appeared unlikely. Most of those countries themselves are facing grave economic problems as a result of the oil shortage resulting from the closing of the Suez Canal.

That leaves only the United States, but there seemed no chance for funds from America unless the Kremlin permits Kadar's replacement by a government more acceptable to the Hungarian people and gives Hungary at least as much freedom from Moscow control as the Soviets have conceded to Poland.

Aid To Poles
The U.S. government has indicated it might extend economic aid to Poland's new regime and Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Nov. 2 that discussion of this was under way with the Poles. But Dulles said there is not yet satisfactory evidence that American aid to Kadar's government in Hungary would be profitable.

Any proposal to bolster the Kadar regime with American funds undoubtedly would meet resounding defeat in the U.S. Congress.

Nepszabadsag has predicted Hungary soon will have 200,000 unemployed due to the serious coal shortage which is forcing factories to close and other economic troubles.

The Soviet Union has promised Hungary 700,000 tons of coal by the end of March. The Hungarians also are trying to buy electric power from neighboring Austria.

Churches Filled
Hungary's churches were filled for Christmas services Monday night and yesterday. Some worshippers had to wait past Russian tanks and armored cars, but the Communists made no move to interfere with the religious observances.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, imprisoned by the Communists for nearly eight years and released by the rebels during their October outbreak, celebrated Christmas Eve and Christmas masses at an office desk in the U.S. legation. He has been a refugee there since the Russian troops and tanks opened up Nov. 4 against the rebels.

The Americans arranged for the cardinal's 82-year-old mother to be with her son for Christmas.

SLEEP-WALKER

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)— An early Christmas day visitor startled the William C. Robinson family. He was a pajama-clad stranger who rang the bell and walked into the house.

It later was learned the man was an overnight guest at a neighbor's house. He started walking in his sleep early that morning.

mountain areas of Washington and Oregon but elsewhere in the country clear, sunny weather was in prospect.

Coldest weather was reported in northern New York state with temperatures in the teens. A warming trend was indicated in parts of the Southern Plains and most of the Mississippi Valley. Little change was indicated for other areas.

SAARBRUECKEN MINERS GLAD TO REJOIN GERMANY

By RICHARD O'REGAN
SAARBRUECKEN (AP)— "Wir kehren heim — We are going home."

So says Hans Eberhard, a coal miner in the Saarland. He is one of the million intensely loyal inhabitants of the 990-square-mile Saar coal basin. The region has been a bone of dispute between France and Germany for 200 years, changing hands periodically.

On Jan. 1, the Saarland—smaller than Rhode Island—returns to the German fatherland politically. Three years from now its mines and steel plants will be German, not French-run.

Generations Of Miners
Eberhard lives in a five-room brick house in a miner's colony outside Neunkirchen, a busy steel and coal town hidden almost the year around under a heavy smog and tucked away in the Saar's wooded hills.

"My great-grandfather, my grandfather, my father — they were all miners. They all worked here in the Saar. They all spoke German. That's why we think of ourselves as going home on Jan. 1," Eberhard explains.

Ernst Roehling is another Saarlander who says, "The French, twice in the last 22 years, would have liked to have made us Sarrois, but we are Germans and always will be."

Won't Leave Saar
Roehling is the Saar's Henry Ford. He and his family own the Saar's biggest steel mills, producing a million tons a year and employing 14,000 men.

You might consider the Saar coal basin a typically drab and miserable industrial center where housewives wipe soot from window sills three times a day — with soap — to keep them clean.

But both Eberhard and Roehling like it. Going back to Germany is a political idea they are supporting at the moment, but they would never think of moving out of the Saar.

A Family Affair
For the Saarland — its soil, its industry, its community life — is a family affair, from topmost to bottommost levels.

It is a typically German, patriarchal society with its customs and culture rooted in such concepts. It is not surprising that the Saarlanders voted overwhelmingly a year ago to free themselves from French influence and return to Germany.

Roehling, for example, is far from the modern steel magnate. Imprisoned by the French five years and only recently released, he is back running the Roehling steel mills. He dresses carelessly, wears a green shirt and walks to his lunch.

Drinks Beer, Not Wine
Both Eberhard and Roehling are convinced this sort of astem provides them with a better social

One Soldier Raises $300 For Refugees

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—A young soldier, remembering his own experiences as a refugee, personally raised $300 for Hungarian relief at the Army chemical center here.

Pfc. Henn H. Livi and his mother and grandmother were deported from their home in Estonia in 1944 to work in a German munitions plant. After the war, they were classified as displaced persons until 1949 when they were able to come to this country.

Livi later graduated from college with a mechanical engineering degree and then entered the Army.

2 MEN CRUSHED IN AUTO CRASH

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two men riding in the front of a car were crushed to death when the auto failed to make a curve and plowed under the back half of a tractor-trailer truck parked near the road.

The accident occurred yesterday on Route 441, near Royaltown, about six miles south of Harrisburg. George J. Lauer, 28, of York, was driving northward toward Middletown at the time of the crash. State police of the Harrisburg subdivision said he failed to follow the road around a turn as it crossed the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Also killed was Lauer's front seat passenger, William C. Penwell, 25, of Marietta. A third occupant of the car, James St. Clair, 25, of Marietta, suffered lacerations.

Both of the victims had broken legs as the car dove 10 feet under the trailer which had been parked on dolly wheels.

The double fatality and one other traffic death in Carlisle Saturday were the only holiday highway deaths reported in central Pennsylvania.

standard than is enjoyed by miners in Germany's Ruhr Valley or other European industrial areas where workers live in hostels.

Amid the coal dust, the smoke and the grey mists of the Saar, Eberhard feels himself happier than many men. He has ties to his home, his community and his church (73 per cent of Saarlanders are Catholic).

He drinks beer, not wine. He eats at home, not out. His sons will be miners too. He is rooted to the land and to his German ways.

PA. TEACHERS BEGIN ANNUAL MEET THURSDAY

HARRISBURG (AP)— Pennsylvania's organized teachers begin their annual holiday convention tomorrow with the subject of pay once again topping the agenda.

Some 850 delegates from an estimated 60,000 membership of the State Education Assn. will give up three days of their Christmas-New Year vacation to attend the 104th meeting.

More than 50 separate meetings on scores of educational subjects are scheduled for nine separate meeting places in downtown Harrisburg. Two general sessions and two business sessions are also on the program.

Leader To Speak
Gov. Leader is scheduled to make his annual address to the PSEA at the Friday evening banquet. He is expected to once again urge legislative and county-by-county approval of the administrative school reorganization proposed by a special committee of the public instruction department and endorsed by the state council of education.

The plan will eliminate the county superintendent and county school offices in favor of up to 47 intermediate school services areas.

The question of new pay increases will come before the convention at its second business session Friday afternoon. Last week the PSEA legislative committee disclosed it would seek convention approval of a plan to ask the legislature for new $100 permanent pay increases in the 1957-58 and 1958-59 school years.

Got Boost Last Year
The program would cost an estimated 21 million dollars. The committee also recommended that teachers with 30 years of service should receive an additional $200 raise.

Last year, after months of disagreement, the PSEA succeeded in getting the legislature to pass a salary raise bill calling for an immediate $100 cost of living boost $200 permanent hike in 1956-57, and $100 raises in both 1957-58 and 1958-59 school years. The cost of living bonus was eventually ruled unconstitutional by the Justice Department.

List Of Speakers
Five meetings of various departments and sections of the PSEA will open the three-days work Thursday afternoon. The first business session is set for that evening.

Speakers during the three days include: Carroll V. Newsum, president of Carroll V. Newsum University; Rep. Stephen McCann (D-Greene), chairman of the House education committee in the last session; Margaret Perry, National Education Assn.; Sen. Harry E. Seyler (D-York), a school administrator; Elizabeth Hodges, supervisor of the Baltimore County Libraries; and Joseph Carreiro of the Philadelphia Museum School of Art.

Triplets Arrive On Christmas Day In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Wow! What a Christmas!" gushed a $75-a-week truck driver yesterday after his wife gave birth to triplets, all girls.

"It's a swell Christmas present but we never expected anything like this," said Nicholas Conti, 29, of the Bronx.

The Christmas Day births swelled the Conti family offspring to seven, including 4-year-old twins. The mother, Philomena, 31, and the triplets were reported in good condition.

"We'll get along even with seven mouths to feed," said Conti. The triplets weighed slightly over three pounds each and were transferred to Lincoln Hospital, Bronx, as a routine precautionary measure.

TRIPLE FEATURE

DENVER (AP)—Yesterday was a busy day for Mrs. Ralph E. Graham.

But friends and relatives simplified matters by throwing one big party for her to celebrate Christmas, her 72nd birthday and a golden wedding anniversary, all on the same day.

Eight times during 1956 the Milwaukee Braves drew more than 40,000 fans to County Stadium, Milwaukee. Labor Day's crowd was 47,604 for a twin bill with Cincinnati.

Bullets Oppose W. Va. Tech In Hofstra Tourney; Most Schoolboy Teams To Resume

Gettysburg College's basketball squad returned here today for a practice session in preparation for participation in the sixth annual Hofstra College Christmas Invitational tournament which opens Thursday afternoon at Hempstead, Long Island.

The Bullets, 2-3, draw favored West Virginia Tech as their opponent in the opening game of Thursday evening's twin bill.

Tech's high-scoring outfit reeled off nine straight victories during the current season, and last week swept through to three more triumphs in snaring the Marine Invitational tournament at Parris Island, S. C. The Golden Bears, with the same veteran team that led the nation in scoring last year, have gone over the century mark at least six times this season and hold a victory over the Quantic Marines. Ken Hammond, ace scorer, averaged 39.7 points per game in the Parris Island tourney.

Other Tourney Pairings
In the opening game of Thursday afternoon's twin bill Bucknell's unbeaten outfit opposes Wagner with Cortland State meeting Springfield in the second game. Following the Bullet-Tech game in the evening, Upsala opposes defending champion Hofstra.

On Friday afternoon the beaten four of the first round play in a consolation twin bill followed by a night twin bill involving the four winners from Thursday.

The consolation final and playoff for third place will form the Saturday afternoon doubleheader with the championship game listed for Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Most county scholastic teams resume action this week after a brief holiday. Tonight the York Springs dribblers meet the Alumni boys and girls.

Biglerville also opposes its Alumni teams Thursday evening while winless Littlestown is host to strong Spring Grove the same evening.

GHS At Home
Friday night's program includes Cumberland Valley against the Gettysburg High Warriors here; Littlestown at Keimard-Dale; Alumni vs. East Berlin; Alumni vs. Delone; and York Springs girls at Delone; Alumni boys and girls vs. Fairfield.

SOCCER TEST 2 MILES HIGH

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—You need a tremendous pair of lungs and a strong heart to play soccer 10,000 feet above sea level.

At least that's the opinion of more than one visiting team that comes to play here.

Last winter the Alpine Sports Club of Vienna, one of the best soccer teams in Europe, came to South America and beat the best teams in Chile, Argentina, Brazil and Peru. When they met the Ecuador team they lost two out of three games in Quito. The altitude got them.

Manager Loses Face
The Alpine manager had "lost face" at the defeats by the Ecuadorians. He demanded a return engagement. So three games were arranged at Guayaquil on the sea coast. This time Alpine won two of the three games.

About 400 years ago, the story goes, Aztec Indian boys ran weekly relay races from the Ecuador sea coast to Andean capitals as high as 15,000 feet above sea level. The Indians transported fresh fish and tropical fruits in this manner.

The trails used by the these boys are still in evidence. It could be that these long runs helped the soccer players of Quito to develop tremendous lungs and strong hearts. At least, that's the belief—and the Alpine soccer team would be the last to doubt it.

CATCHING EASY AS COMPARED TO THAT OF GOALIE

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

The most dangerous job in ice hockey belongs to the fellow the spectators often refer to as "the poor goalie."

These Yogi Berras of the ice are loaded down with heavy chest pads, wide shin guards, elbow guards, heavy gloves and a goal tender's stick that seems too heavy to move. Their equipment must weigh as much as that of their five teammates.

Goalies get credit only when their team wins. Often they have a 6-ounce vulcanized rubber hockey puck come flying at them at about 100 miles an hour 225 to 300 times a game.

Some of them can skate well; a few can't, but most welcome a time out they can at least push around their iron-posted cage to prevent leg cramps.

How did they become goalies? Well, some National Hockey League goalies got that way because they were too big to play with little boys or too small to skate with big boys.

"The smallest guy always gets the pads," says New York Ranger goalie Gump Worsley, who at 166 pounds is the lightest goalie playing regularly in the big leagues. "I was the runt of the kids around the parks and playground in Montreal. I was 11 and in order to play I had to mind the nets. I'm 27 now and still guarding the goal. If I didn't like it I wouldn't be doing it."

Jacques Plante of the world champion Montreal Canadiens became a goalie because his father attended a Christmas party. The tree was decorated with prizes. Papa Plante won one—a goalie stick.

Today Jacques is regarded as the best goalie in the game. At least he allowed the fewest goals last season and won the Vezina trophy. Seven times he shut out the opposition.

Terry Sawchuk of the Boston Bruins, became a goalie because of a family tragedy during his youth at Winnipeg, Man. Terry's older brother, Mitchell, died of a heart ailment at 17. Terry inherited his brother's pads and equipment. Three times with the Detroit Red Wings he won the Vezina trophy.

At Rollins of the Chicago Black Hawks believes he started to mind nets because only the goalie got equipment in elementary school.

Unique among goalies is Glenn Hall of Detroit. He says he never aspired to play any other position. Ed Chadwick of the Toronto Maple Leafs had foot trouble as a youth. He couldn't skate with the other kids so he tended goal.

Bill Durnan, formerly of the Canadians, received his first pair of ice skates at 9. When he went out for the church team in Toronto the kids were grouped according to weight. Bill was so big the coach put him in front of the goal.

Westmoreland United Church won five city titles in six years with Durnan minding the nets. And during his National Hockey League career he won the Vezina Trophy six times in seven seasons.

WIFE CERTAIN ROCKY THROUGH

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—One half year after his retirement as heavyweight boxing champion, Rocky Marciano still has no definite plans for his future.

"But one thing is sure," says his pretty wife, Barbara. "He's not going back to fighting again. When he said he was through, he meant he was through."

Since retirement day, April 27, the Marcianos, in Barbara's words, "haven't done much. Mostly we stay home, or visit friends. Rocky travels quite a bit with charity and church work."

At the very moment Mrs. Marciano was speaking, her husband was in Pennsylvania, speaking and generally being helpful at a church fund-raising dinner.

"Rocky doesn't take part in any athletics now," Mrs. Marciano went on. "He likes to watch the fights on television, though, and he goes to the local football games when he gets a chance."

"He still likes fighting. He's still interested in it. But he's never shown any desire to go back." Her tone of voice indicates she is quite pleased.

As for the future, "we haven't decided on a thing. We have no plans at all. We haven't even discussed it," says Barbara Marciano.

KANSAS FACES IOWA STATE IN BIG SEVEN PLAY

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press

The Big Seven tournament, another in a score of college basketball get-togethers that will open in the next few days, gets underway tonight with Kansas and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain facing what could be their stiffest test of the season.

The Jayhawks, again rated No. 1 in the week's Associated Press poll, take on Iowa State in the second game of a double-header. Both teams have won their first six games.

The ECAC Holiday Festival in Madison Square Garden kicked off the tournament competition yesterday with NYU beating Villanova 73-66 and Temple turning back Fordham 79-70.

NYU Overcomes Lead
Kansas State and Oklahoma open the Big Seven tourney which also includes Michigan State, the guest team, Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska.

The ECAC twin-bill furnished two hotly contested games. NYU had to come from behind to turn back Villanova with an unimpaired 13-point spree in the second half. Tom DeLuca paced the Violets' winning drive with three successive baskets as NYU overcame a 51-50 deficit and ran up a 63-51 lead.

Guy Rodgers turned in a fine all-around showing to pace Temple to its victory. Rodgers scored 30 points and had six assists while pulling down seven rebounds. Jim Cunningham's 33 points enabled Fordham to make it close.

Today's pairings pit St. John's of Brooklyn and Brigham Young and Temple and Ohio State in the afternoon. In a night twin bill, Manhattan takes on Niagara and Notre Dame meets NYU.

BASEBALL HAS GRIP IN TEXAS

DALLAS (AP)—While professional baseball leagues were quitting elsewhere and there was talk of the dire straits of the minors, Texas was doing something it hadn't done in many seasons—finish with the same number of clubs that started.

Twenty-one clubs in five leagues began the campaign in April. Some had financial troubles and had to raise money in local drives and one pulled out. But it was quickly replaced. There were no other casualties and when the last pitch was delivered, 21 clubs had played the 1956 season.

Unusual Action

Texas had the unusual situation of one club suing a league to get back in. That club was Beaumont. One of its owners had turned the franchise back to the Big State League, which immediately placed it at Texas City. But the other owners said they didn't want it that way and that they had raised sufficient money to finish the season. So they sued the league.

It so happened that Lubbock withdrew from the Big State League about that time, so the Lubbock franchise was sent to Texas City and the Beaumont franchise was sent from Texas City back to Beaumont.

Most of the clubs are expected to be ready to play again next season although there may be some changes. But prospects are that Texas will again have 21 clubs in 1957.

PLAYED ON 1040 COURSES

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—John B. Ryerson has played 1,040 golf courses during the last 36 years, but has no hopes to match Ralph Kennedy's mark. Kennedy has played 3,162 courses.

Ryerson, who operates the Otsego Golf Club, has played 966 courses in the United States, 37 in Canada and 37 in Hawaii, Mexico, Great Britain, France, China, India, Siam and Malaya. His best scores over each of the various courses are mounted in six leather-bound books.

MOST OF TOP 10 TEAMS TO PLAY IN TOURNEYS

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN

The Associated Press

Eight of 10 top teams in The Associated Press' latest weekly basketball poll will defend their new rankings in tournaments throughout the country this week.

Kansas, again overwhelmingly ranked No. 1 in the AP poll of sports writers and sportscasters, will oppose a tough crew in the Big Seven tournament starting today. The Jayhawks attracted 64 of 107 first-place votes for 944 points.

The poll, which included all games through Dec. 22, is figured on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc.

Plunge By Dons

Top 10 teams off the tournament binge this week are Illinois, No. 6 team and Oklahoma A&M, which advanced from 12th to No. 10.

Second-ranked North Carolina will find two other top 10 teams in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N. C., starting tomorrow. The Tar Heels moved up another to fill the spot vacated when San Francisco plunged from No. 2 team to No. 19.

West Virginia, No. 4, and Duke, No. 9, will compete with the Tar Heels for the Dixie laurels. Both teams jumped four pegs over their positions a week ago.

Kentucky Advances

Kentucky, boosted from No. 7 to No. 3 when it upset two top 10ers in its own tournament last week, will move further South to compete in the Sugar Bowl tourney at New Orleans starting Friday.

St. Louis will put its No. 5 ranking on the line at the Blue Grass Festival at Louisville starting Friday and will find hometown Louisville, No. 7, in the same cast. Southern Methodist, No. 6, stung by its 73-67 loss to Kentucky, will take the curtain the Southwest Conference tourney at Houston starting tomorrow.

Task Impossible
The Americans' task is next to impossible. They conceded Rosewall and Hoad the doubles even before the Challenge Round got under way. Their big hope was in Seixas and Flam springing upsets. Neither could.

Only once before in Davis Cup competition has a team come back from a 0-2 deficit and won the cup. That was in 1939 when the same two countries went at it. The Americans won the first two singles, but the Aussies rebounded behind Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich and won the doubles on both remaining singles.

This U. S. team, however, can entertain no such hope. Rosewall and Hoad were head and shoulders over their Yank opponents. Their victories were purely routine.

True, Seixas caused a flurry of excitement when he decided to throw caution to the winds in the third set of his match with Rosewall. He won the set, but it was a desperation measure. He tried the same strategy in the fourth set and hit a stone wall.

Tactics Fail

Completely outplayed in the first two sets, Seixas began rushing in on Rosewall's services in the fourth and banging the ball right back at little Ken's feet. Vic caught Rosewall by surprise and broke his service in the third game, then let the set run out following service.

Flushed with his success Seixas tried the same tactics in the fourth set. But to fool a player of Rosewall's caliber twice with the same trick is a feat beyond the capabilities of most players, Seixas included.

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech will bring his Yellow Jackets in tomorrow.

Michelosen scheduled workouts for the Panthers at Jacksonville beach this afternoon and tomorrow.

SEIXAS, FLAM LOSE AS HOPES FOR CUP FADE

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, a pair of 22-year-old court precisionists, methodically wrecked America's plans of stealing home with the Davis Cup today by crushing Vic Seixas and Herbie Flam in the first two singles matches of the Challenge Round.

While a crowd of 18,000 sat almost bored at the sun-drenched Memorial Drive Stadium, Rosewall and Hoad won the American championship less than four months ago, blunted a bold gamble by Seixas 6-1, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1. The temperamental Hoad, tending strictly to the business at hand, chopped down Challenge Round rookie Flam 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Now the Aussies need win only tomorrow's double or one of the remaining two singles to retain the cup that they won at Forest Hills last year.

SAYS U. S. BOYS GETTING 'SOFT'; NEED DISCIPLINE

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—

America's Olympic gymnastics coach recommends more "athletic discipline"—among other things—to help the U. S. pick up ground in one minor sport that clinched the Russian victory at Melbourne.

Gene Wettstone, veteran Penn State gymnastics coach, says "We are getting soft."

"We need more athletic discipline. We're getting soft because our boys are able to pick their training rules... our boys don't diet properly," he declared.

Wettstone, who also led America's gymnastic entry to the 1948 Olympics, made the remark before he left for Florida where he was to report on the Olympic games to America's gymnastics coaches at their annual winter meeting and clinic.

Need Leadership

America's gymnasts, chosen this spring in competition at Penn State, failed to score a single point in 15 events in Australia. But Russia won 10 gold medals, 6 silver ones and another 5 bronze medals in piling up a tremendous point total in the sport.

Wettstone had some other ideas for improving America's showing in the sport.

For one, he says, "we need more leadership."

"If we had the coaches we'd be able to produce more winning teams."

Wettstone said America is now negotiating to bring either Russian, Japanese or Finnish gymnasts to the United States for a tour. Penn State sponsored similar tours by Swedish and Swiss athletes in recent years.

LITTLE LEAGUES WILL INCREASE

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Peter J. McGovern, president of Little League Baseball, Inc., said today that a project to make the baseball for boys program self-sufficient is gaining momentum.

"Considerable interest is being evidenced by the nation's top industrial and business executives in the recently launched Little Leagues in a year-end report.

The foundation is a non-profit undertaking announced last summer. At present national operations of the movement are underwritten by a national manufacturer.

Meanwhile, with what he termed an "optimistic outlook," McGovern predicted a 15 per cent rise for 1957 in the number of local Little Leagues franchised by the national headquarters. This summer there were slightly over 4,100 leagues enrolled with some 700,000 boys 8-12 playing baseball.

"Upward to 4,800 leagues are estimated for 1957," McGovern said.

agreed for clearance work to begin as soon as the British-French forces left the Suez Canal zone.

The last British and French soldiers sailed from Port Said Saturday.

Western Europe's economy—largely dependent on oil that comes from the Middle East via Suez—already is suffering.

In Washington, American officials said Egypt's progressive objections to clearance work are also blocking a United Nations plan to begin talks by the end of the year on a permanent Suez settlement.

The Washington informants said President Nasser had agreed to resume negotiations—as soon as the clearance job got under way—on guarantees for freedom of shipping through the nationalized canal. These talks were broken off when British, French and Israeli forces invaded Egypt.

Top American officials were said to fear that several weeks might be needed to straighten out the newest disagreement.

Egypt also has objected to the use of British and French salvage crews to help in the clearing job, even though they have donated civilian clothes as "U.N. volunteers."

on Sunday with a service at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Lamont Weick will conduct the devotions and there will be music by a male quartet from the Church of the Brethren. Greetings will be extended by these community representatives: Rev. Laverne Rohrbach, for Centenary EUB Church; Prof. L. V. Stock, superintendent of the Upper Adams Joint School System; J. Hoke Slaybaugh as a "community friend," and the Rev. Robert Knechel from the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren.

There will be special music by a vocal group from the Fairfield Mennonite Church and Harold Bauman, Orrville, O., moderator of the Ohio and Eastern Mennonite Conference of which Bethel Church is a part, will speak on "The Church in the Community." There will be an offering for the Building Fund.

Dedication By Bishop

There will be a special Sunday School hour on Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock in charge of the superintendents, Mr. Kanagy and Richard Shaffer. The morning worship service will be held at 10:45 o'clock with the sermon by Bishop O. N. Johns, Lewisville, O., presiding bishop for this congregation.

The dedicatory service Sunday afternoon will open with congregational singing led by Esther Musselman. Devotions will be led by Eby Leaman, York, and there will be special music.

Weldon Bender, representing the architects, and Ernest C. Reisinger, representing the contractor, will speak as will Mr. Kanagy for the building committee and Pastor Breckbill. Moderator Bauman will deliver a sermon on "The Church for God's Glory" and Bishop Johns will conduct the service of dedication.

In the evening Mr. Bauman will preach on "The Church in God's Service." There will also be special music.

Wheeler, directing canal clearance work for the United Nations, told newsmen in Port Said he had enough equipment on hand to begin the task without the British-French salvage fleet and was anxious to start.

For the second straight day, Israel accused Egypt of launching fedayeen (commando) attacks in defiance of the U.N. cease-fire resolution. A Foreign Ministry statement said:

"While we are withdrawing our forces steadily from Egypt—in good faith and loyal to the U.N. resolution—Egypt is openly violating the U.N. resolution and boasting about it."

"The same U.N. resolution that urged the Israelis to withdraw called upon Egypt to desist from raids into Israel."

"What is the U.N. going to do now to secure Israel's right of free passage in the Suez Canal, to keep the Gulf of Aquaba open to shipping and to stop the murderous fedayeen? We are waiting for the answers."

The Super G Constellation had taken India's Prime Minister Nehru to London after a visit in the country and the President did not wish it to return empty.

It picked up eight adults and 13 children at Munich and made the transatlantic hop in 18 hours.

As the Columbine flew over Boston about 6 a.m., the 13 members of its crew distributed gifts to the refugees.

Wire Their Thanks

The Hungarians later wired the White House, thanking Eisenhower and the American people for permitting them to come to this country.

After the landing here, the refugees smiled and waved as they walked to buses 100 feet from the plane for the ride to nearby Camp Kilmer.

Lt. Col. William G. Draper, skipper of the plane, posed for pictures with the Zoltan Csukardi family. Then he carried 8-month-old Zoltan Jr., wrapped in a blanket, to the waiting bus.

The Columbine and its crew later returned to Washington.

LOOKS FOR NEW U. S. POLICIES TOWARD RUSSIA

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the things to look for early in 1957 is this: Will the Eisenhower administration come up with new policies for dealing with Russia and the Middle East?

It's one of the best ways to determine whether the new year will be one of action or of drift and slide.

It is now almost two months since major disasters for Russia in Eastern Europe and for Britain and France in the Middle East. The administration still has produced no new policy for dealing with either situation.

Containment Continues
After four years in office the basic Eisenhower policy — containment of Russia — remains the one which this administration inherited from former President Truman. Containment means ringing Russia with military bases and alliances.

It was that policy which Secretary of State Dulles so roundly criticized during the 1952 presidential campaign — calling it defensive and lacking initiative. But he adopted it and made it his own once the campaign was over.

The peaceful revolt in Poland and the bloody upsurge in Hungary revealed Russian failures and weaknesses: after 11 postwar years under Russian masters the satellite people hate communism and Russia.

Can't Be Trusted
One reason for the Russian grip on the satellites — besides enlarging the area of communism — was to use their manpower and their geography as a military buffer against the West. Now the Russians know the captive peoples cannot be trusted to help them if war starts.

What is the Eisenhower administration going to do about that, either to encourage more satellite people to seek freedom, or to persuade Russia to loosen its grip on them?

If the administration has plans for doing either, it hasn't shown them.

The Dulles Attitude
Judging from Dulles' words at a news conference last week, this seems to be his attitude: that whatever happens between the satellites and Russia is strictly within the Russian sphere of influence — a kind of family quarrel — and any liberating will have to be done entirely by the captives, even though the Russians by their massacres in Hungary showed what they do to rebels.

That's not a positive policy. If the Eisenhower administration can think of anything positive to do — even in the field of disarmament so as to calm Russian fears — it should be able to disclose it before the end of January, the month in which the new Congress opens.

RUSS ECONOMIC PLANNING UNIT GETS SHAKEUP

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has shaken up its top economic planning staff after a call from the Communist Party Central Committee for revisions in the nation's five-year plan.

The committee said the original plan called for more production than is possible with available resources.

The committee also declared the Soviet people must eliminate inefficiency and bureaucracy if they want better living conditions.

Some Replacements
In the high-level changes, First Deputy Premier M. G. Pervukhin was named chief economic planner. He replaces Maxim K. Saburov, another first deputy premier

19 DEATHS ON PA. HIGHWAYS OVER HOLIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nineteen persons were reported killed on the highways in Pennsylvania over the four-day Christmas holiday—a number less than on several normal two-day weekends during the last year.

At Harrisburg, Gov. Leader today was to congratulate Pennsylvanians on holding the traffic death toll far below that of many other states, where the fatalities were over 70 in California, 55 in Illinois 38 in Ohio and 36 in New York.

The deaths were counted from 6 p. m. Friday night to midnight Christmas Day.

27 Accidental Deaths
Other accidental deaths in Pennsylvania including one death from fire, brought the holiday total to 27 in the state.

The number of persons killed by accidents was below that of last year's shorter three-day Yuletide, when 22 died in traffic mishaps and 10 in other accidents in Pennsylvania.

Leader led the Keystone State in a holiday safety campaign to reduce the death and accident toll. Recorded messages by Leader were broadcast frequently over radio and television stations throughout the commonwealth. Drivers are expected to get a similar caution for the coming New Year's holiday.

Weather probably favored the drivers in Pennsylvania over the holiday, which was not a white Christmas for most of the state. Only toward the end of the four-day period did driving conditions become hazardous.

Snow in North
Snow fell in northwestern Pennsylvania to catch motorists heading home after trips. And temperatures fell below freezing throughout the state Christmas night.

Ice pavements cuts speeds on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, which for the second year in a row reported no Christmas fatalities. In the Philadelphia area of the turnpike, driving was reduced to 35 miles an hour.

Only one traffic death was reported in the state's largest city, which was plagued by more than 200 lesser auto mishaps. The lone fatality in Philadelphia was an unidentified woman of 35 struck by an auto shortly before midnight Christmas Eve. She died several hours later in Temple University Hospital.

The highest traffic toll for a regular two-day weekend in the state during the last year was 27 during April 21-22. The number passed 20 deaths on several weekends.

"Boss" Shannon Dies On Christmas Day

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (AP)—R. G. (Boss) Shannon, who spent 11 years in prison for his part in the kidnaping of oilman Charles F. Urschel in 1933, and whose stepdaughter married George (Machine Gun) Kelly, died yesterday at the age of 79.

Shannon died at the Bridgeport Hospital. He was stricken with a heart attack at his 535-acre farm near Paradise, Tex., in November. Shannon maintained he and his family were forced to guard Urschel at the Shannon farm after Kelly and Albert Bates, both of whom died in prison, kidnaped the oil man at his home in Oklahoma City.

and like Pervukhin a member of the Central Committee Presidium. (Yugoslav Communists said last September that Pervukhin was among the Kremlin faction opposed to party boss Khrushchev's policy of relaxing control of the satellites.)

There was no indication that Saburov, who has directed Soviet economic planning for 20 years, was being dropped from his other posts in the Soviet leadership.

Priority For Industry
Six experts in agriculture and industry — four of them deputy premiers — were named to help Pervukhin with the economic guidance. They will make up a supercommittee as deputy chairmen of the State Economic Commission.

The six are Deputy Premiers A. N. Kosygin, V. A. Malyshev, M. V. Khrushchev, V. A. Kucherenko, Minister of Agriculture V. V. Matskevich and Minister of State Affairs I. A. Benediktov.

The report from the Central Committee came at the end of a five-day meeting and emphasized that top priority in the Kremlin's planning still rests on heavy industry. It disclosed that the sixth five-year plan had been sent back to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) for revision.

PENN STATE MAY DEVELOP "REC" AREA NEARBY

UNIVERSITY PARK (AP)—Pennsylvania State University is considering the establishment of a quarter of million dollar recreation area in nearby Stone Valley.

President Eric A. Walker announced today the school trustees have approved the project and that preliminary studies to determine its feasibility are under way. "If we find this idea practical we hope to be able to begin construction of the dam in the spring of 1958," he said.

The area would be built on university land surrounding a dam across Shaver Creek. The dam would create a 70-acre lake that could be used for swimming, boating and fishing.

Walker said the project is vis-

Refugees Observe Christmas At Kilmer

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—Some 5,200 Hungarian children and grownups celebrated their first Christmas in the free world yesterday while waiting at this Army camp to start a new life in America.

Nine van loads of gifts were distributed and a personal welcome message from President Eisenhower on White House stationery was received by each one. Catholic and Protestant church services were held throughout the day at the camp.

A pageant depicting the birth of Christ, written and produced by the refugees, was staged three times during the day.

Realized not only as a gigantic recreation area for the university and community "but also would cater to returning alumni." He said although swimming, boating and fishing are the immediate objectives the site would provide excellent opportunity for hunting, skiing and tobogganing.

The area would be adjacent to existing field camps maintained by the school's mineral industries, civil engineering and forestry departments.
